

Electricity Hunt

Explore your home to find examples of objects that use electricity. How many can you find?

When you have finished exploring, think about what it would be like if Thomas Edison had not invented his electrical system. How would things be different without each electrical item?

Electrical item	What if there was no electricity in your home? What would you use instead?

