

Wednesday

Science

As we are coming to the end of our electricity topic, I thought it would be interesting to think about the history of electricity. I would like you to:

- Read and complete the questions about the early history of electricity.
- Read the information about Thomas Edison and complete the electricity hunt in your home.
- As a final challenge I would love you to research Cragside (Northumberland) and investigate how it is linked to electricity.

<https://www.nationaltrust.org.uk/cragside>